Police Community Liaison

On Sunday, November 29th, at around 9:15 in the morning, Dallas Police Officer Jane Burke responded to a report of a theft. Approximately one hour prior, the victim had two packages stolen from her front porch. The suspect, later identified as Andrew Bissonnette, was observed on the victim's surveillance recording running from a parked vehicle in front of the home, removing the two packages from the front porch, running back to the car and leaving the area. Bissonnette was identified by other Dallas officers because of clothing similarities based on previous and recent encounters.

The following day, (November 30th), around 10:55 in the morning, Officer Burke took another report of a package theft which occurred on October 29th. Surveillance video shows a person who appears to be Bissonnette, taking the package from their front porch. Bissonnette was contacted later by Officer Burke and issued a criminal citation to appear for Theft in the Third Degree.

Surveillance systems have frequently helped officers develop leads and bring investigations to successful conclusions. The Surveillance Cameras Registration and Mapping (SCRAM) program provides an opportunity for residents and business owners to help officers solve local crimes with the help of video surveillance cameras. Working with the Dallas community to deter crime and promote public safety is the goal of this program.
